Communication Designer (all genders)

We are looking for a Communication Designer to support our young and ambitious team near Cologne, Germany. Join us in developing high end product design solutions and user experiences stories. Exchange with a diverse team of nerd-level experts with a wide range of interests. Inspire and work with different teams through all stages of a project and bring your values into each collaboration, creating a positive future in close communication with clients and your team members.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Participate in exciting design projects and support on different phases: from research reports, ideation workshops and brand conception, to creating spec sheets for implementation
- Create and support on presentations for clients, in close communication with the leading product designers and CGI experts
- Independently work on a wide range of projects, from product visualisation, branding, packaging and product manuals to creating marketing content and launch strategies
- Learn to guide small projects on your own and work on art direction and narratives to tell the story of a product
- Exchange with the other designers to elevate your sense for design quality and storytelling
- Share your knowledge among the others and be part of the future for Noto as a brand
- Support on refining Noto's visual communication and have an influence on the development to make our studio more visible to the world

YOUR PROFILE

- Relevant Degree in Design - Bachelor of Arts or Diploma
- Passionate about design and the creation of holistic user experiences
- Good communication skills in spoken and written form
- Fluent in English and German
- Experienced in strategic online communication and creating social media content
- Reliable in contributing to different aspects of a project: Brand visions, product visuals, packaging and marketing material
- Experienced in independently managing your time within a project task
- Team player with empathy and sensibility, to confidently take part in project discussions and give constructive feedback to other team members
- Ability to adapt to new tasks, with curiosity for unfamiliar industries and new challenges
- Skilled with latest design software: Adobe Creative Suite, Miro, Figma (experience with CGI software is a plus but not mandatory) and open minded to learn and master new tools

WAIT, THERE IS MORE!

- Inhouse chef prepares free lunch twice a week
- Company bike leasing
- Challenging ping pong matches
- Cocktail Fridays
- Summer BBQ and Christmas party
- After work activities - squash, climbing, badminton, volleyball, yoga
