

Product Design Intern (f/m/d)

SEPTEMBER 2024 - FEBRUARY 2025

We are an internationally active product design studio based near Cologne, Germany. Design research is our inspiration, product design is at the heart of what we do and with business design, we capture the value of ideas. We use our 20 years of experience and excellence in the design and development of products to build meaningful business opportunities. From developing new stories to creating original services or value propositions for an idea, we work with you to hit the ground running and bring to life ideas that endure.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT AT NOTO

- Working and communicating in a dynamic interdisciplinary design team
- Cooperating with our strategy experts to translate relevant user insights into product requirements
- Involvement into a variety of projects or even leading your own, of course, with the support of the team
- Creating compelling visuals in 2D or 3D for internal and external presentations
- Close collaboration with our industrial designers to ensure the excellence of work results together

WHAT WE EXPECT FROM YOU

- You are currently studying in a design related branch
- You enjoy working in a team and share your inspirations
- You offer good skills in visualizing and communicating your ideas
- You are skilled in handling Adobe CC
- You are confident in spoken and written English
- You are comfortable with preparing and holding presentations
- Nice to have: You bring additional skills to the table (Rendering, Film, Photo, etc.)

WHAT WE CAN OFFER

Working at Noto means being passionate about the subject and considerate towards the team members and clients alike. We emphasize our flat organisational structure, direct communication and a familiar atmosphere. In our old factory-building studio around 15 talented people learn, create, ideate, design and develop as a team. Enjoy our freshly prepared lunch dishes by our own cook, compete in the next table tennis tournament or participate in our regular knowledge exchange format. This and other after-work events make Noto a vivid and inspiring place to work.
